MEMOIRS

Foreword

We, the graduating class of '48, present to you, with pride, this account of our school and our activities therein.

Now the time has come to say goodbye to South Charleston High School. We are happy, yet sad at the parting, but we shall long remember the days which we have spent within her portals.

Dedication

In appreciation for all the many things which they have done for us, and for their wonderful patience throughout our high school years, the senior class of 1948 dedicates this annual, "Memoirs," to the Faculty of South Charleston High School.

As We Bid Farewell

*As we bid farewell to our former life,
To times of fun and good cheer,
We know a change will surely take place
And the time is drawing near.*

*Our goals in life have all been chosen,
Our aims all set quite high.
Let us keep their sight and fight toward them,
Else time shall pass us by.*

*In the endless sands of time, are made Footprints, day by day.
We see the paths where we have been,
But not the morrow's way.*

*We know not what things the future brings,
Or the tidings it will bear,
But surely our goals lie within its borders,
And our steps must be taken with care.*

*As we walk toward our goal in the distance
With steps so carefully planned,
A feeling of joy must surely arise
As we make our marks in the sand.*

BOB SWARBRICK, '48.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Seniors of the Class of '48, South Charleston High School, City of South Charleston, County of Kanawha, State of West Virginia, being of sound mind(?) and legal age (three years from now) do hereby declare this our last Will and Testament. Upon our graduation, we wish the following instructions to be carried out:

FIRST: To our benevolent principal, Mr. Bryan, we leave the hope that after his retirement he will find time to get caught up on his sleep in the quiet atmosphere after we are gone.

SECOND: To the juniors we leave our ability to yell and hope it will bring them the luck it brought us.

THIRD: To the sophomores we leave our good conduct and tendency to give the school a good reputation.

FOURTH: To the freshmen we leave all the knowledge that we have gained during our term in high school (which isn't enough to do them any good).

FIFTH: The following Seniors wish to make their special bequests:

I, Joe VanCamp, being of sound mind(?), do hereby will and bequeath my knowledge of geometric curves, girls that is, to some ignorant freshman. Any other undiscovered brains that I have I need myself.

I, Glenna Dent, do hereby will all my old worn-out notebooks to anyone too stingy to buy new ones.

I, Joan Davis, do will and bequeath my conversational ability to Joyce and Dottie Cunningham.

I, Don Deardorff, do hereby will my winning ways with Mr. "Pete" Raspellaire to any freshman with enough ignorance to join the band.

I, Charles LeSueur, do not will anything as I need everything I have and more.

I, Robert Field, will my ignorance of the esteemed subject, Chemistry, to Charles Dixon.

I, Betty Lawson, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to make an "A" in Latin to anyone who needs it.

I, Paul Ray Douglas, will my seat in Latin to anyone crazy enough to take it.

I, Elveta Reeves Williams, hereby will my seat in Senior Science to my sister, Patricia Williams.

I, Richard Arlen Baria, will my ability to keep my big mouth shut in Miss Clara Smith's room to some poor unfortunate Junior who will surely need it. I also will my beat-up locker to Kenneth Johnson, the poor, unfortunate boy.

I, Grace Buck, hereby will my knuckle callouses, earned by pushing a fountain pen, to anyone too lazy to work for his own.

I, Mary Hudson, do will and bequeath, gladly, my seat in detention hall to Janet Covert, and my ability to play basketball to my sister, Buena.

I, Juanita Sewell, will to Eleanor Francis and my brother, Johnny, all my love for Dunbar.

I, Robert Lee Childress, will my gift of "gab" to all who need it and will use it with Mr. Gay.

I, Robert Estep, will my poor grades to any underclassman who will stoop so low as to have them.

I, "Kitten" Corvin, being of sound mind (?) and body, do hereby will and bequeath my famous "Bareback" dress to my sister, Janie, and hope that as a result, Jr. Hoffman will bestow the admiring glances upon her as Alan Farley did me.

I, John Davies, will to any lower classman, for a price, a course in how to get through school without buying your own pencils and paper.

I, Delphia Mae Medley, will all my good times in the choir to some person who will be as unfortunate as I was to get in it.

I, Jeanette Watts, being of sound mind and body, do will my "Bubble Gum" to Miss Ruth Smith to use in book-keeping class.

I, William Bates, will nothing as I have nothing.

I, Deloris Murphy, being of sound mind (I hope) do will and bequeath my brown eyes, blond hair, and excessive weight to Margie Coen, June Hudson, and Lorna Underwood, in hopes that they can use them to get along with "Dave" Stehpenston the way I did.

I, Richard Rader, will my ability for understanding Physics to any ignoramus who wants it.

I, Janice Turley, do will and bequeath my love and ability to play basketball to some lucky freshman.

I, Ramsey Richardson, do hereby will and bequeath my position as Editor of the X-RAY to the next sucker who comes along and wants the job.

I, Mary Reba Moore, do hereby will and bequeath my seat in physics to the next girl that wants to dodge thrown books and broken meter sticks.

I, Bill Thornton, will my ability in physics to some Junior who shall be unlucky enough to decide that Mr. Gay's physics class would be an ideal subject.

I, "Peggy" Stamper, being in my right mind, do hereby will and bequeath all that I have, which isn't much, and more, to anyone who will have it.

I, Bob Dent, do will and bequeath my "Du Hello George" to Mr. Bryan.

I, JoAnn Dodd, being of sound mind, do will and bequeath my golden locks to Mr. Weber and Mr. Ruby, who are in dire need of them. Also, I will my sparkling smile to Mr. Gay.

I, Bob Swarbrick, will my scientific ability to anyone who can understand and explain Mean Kinetic Energy, Mr. Gay excluded.

I, Tom Oakes, will my unwanted ability to get in trouble with girls to any up and coming freshman who desires to live a hard life.

We, Betty Lorraine Miller and Patricia Sue Edwards, being seniors of fair repute, do hereby will and bequeath our "winning" ways and good times in high school to any junior who can handle them successfully. Amen.

I, Barbara Ann Hill, do hereby will and bequeath my love for Tunney to no one, 'cept me.

I, John Franklin Oakes, will my beautiful crop of curly hair to the less fortunate William Arthur to use to his best advantage.

I, Elizabeth Ann Cash, do will and bequeath my senior privileges to my sister, Patsy Lou, and my love for people to Mr. Gay.

I, James Dillon, do hereby will the piece of my thumb I left in Mr. Arant's shop to the next guy that thinks those machines aren't sharp.

I, Margaret Godby, will to my twin brother, Forest Godby, all the good times I had when I was a senior, especially fifth period English class.

I, James Mooney, will the football letter I did not get in '46 to anyone who is good enough to earn it and good luck, fellow.

I, Gwen Higgenbotham, will my ability to argue to Geneve Parraut, who doesn't need it, but it may come in handy when hers exhausts.

I, Gaby Lefebvre, will my front seat in Physics class to any person who can stay out of the range of Mr. Gay's meter stick.

I, Jay Wolfe, have nothing to will because Homer is my love.

I, Pat Coburn, will all my love for Carl Robinson to those girls who wish they had him.

I, Wayne Higgenbotham, will and bequeath my athletic ability, of which there is none, to "P" for Paul Smith.

I, Tom Daniels, being of almost sound mind and body, will to Mr. Gay, 2¢, to help him buy a new meter stick. Back to Mrs. McCoy goes my book—"How to Pass Your School Work in Ten Easy Lessons."

I, Joan Panther, do hereby will and bequeath the fun I have had in Sub-Deb Club to Judy Gay.

I, Betty Ann Mooney, will my seat in front of Mr. Keys' desk to anyone who will sit there.

I, John Tucker, do will and bequeath my good looks to "Mousie" Cook.

I, Sally Jane Young, will my seat in the cafeteria next to the window to Dorothy Brown.

I, Marlin "Mousie" Cook, being of sound mind and likewise body, do hereby will and bequeath all my strong infatuations for the opposite sex to anyone who is worthy of this undertaking.

I, Bob Snyder, will my brains, money, and clothes to Alfred Farley.

We, Pat Watson, and Dorothy Burgy, will our good times, note passing, and ability to play basketball to Dot's sister Andrea.

I, Marvin Sinclair Titus, Junior, do hereby will and bequeath my heart, soul and jacket with the "sign" on it, to Mary Ann McAtee, who will readily accept my heart and soul, but is liable to return the jacket.

I, Joyce Ann Knight, will my front seat in Miss Clara Smith's room to someone who will appreciate it and her as much as I have.

I, Martha Morgan, will all my good times in Glee Club and Choir to anyone who is interested in music.

I, Charles "Toby" Chandler, being of a sound mental and physical state, do hereby will and bequeath my appeal for members of the opposite sex to anyone who will undertake it and who likewise looks like he is of a sound mental and physical state.

I, Martha Sturgill, being of a sound mind (?), do hereby will that uncomfortable seat in the book store to Miss C. Smith. Now she knows!!! Four years I've waited.

I, Thelma Hall, will my first floor locker, number 63, to my sister, Dot.

I, Mary Schulz, do will and bequeath myself to a certain someone that doesn't want me.

I, Ruth Sims, will my seat in S. C. H. S. to the next newcomer in his senior year.

I, Ruby Lee Wood, being of sound mind (?), do will and bequeath my "Bubble Gum" to Miss Ruth Smith and the Seniors' dignity, spirit, and good sportsmanship to the Junior Class.

I, Phyllis Hartley, being of unsound mind, do hereby will and bequeath my annual summer school sessions to my brother Billy.

I, Genevieve Lawson, will all my books to my sister, Virginia Lawson.

I, Evelyn Barnette, will my bookkeeping book to Dorothy Brown, hoping she will make better use of it than I did.

I, Carolyn Baum, will my bookkeeping book to my sister, Charlene, hoping she will do more with it than I have.

I, Carolyn Jean Boggs, will my ability to cheat and get by with it to my sister, Barbara, hoping she is as lucky.

I, Lorna Underwood, being of questionable state of mind and body, do hereby will my sense of humor to anyone who thinks they can control it any better than I have.

I, Robert Burgess, do will and bequeath all my hours to my brother, who is following in my footsteps. (Poor boy.)

I, Barbara Griffith, do hereby will my horn rimmed glasses to my brothers, Howard and Stuart, in hopes that they will have as much fun fighting over them as I have had.

I, Charley Cobb, do will and bequeath my ability to talk my way through Coach Ruby's History Class to any lower classman who might need it. (Namely, Jerry Snyder.)

I, Nora Lyon, do hereby will and bequeath my chewing gum to Miss R. Smith's waste paper basket so she won't have to ask for it.

I, Jerusha Christian, will my ability to study to some freshman, with the hope that they put it to a better use than I have.

We, Imogene Pettit and Carolyn Reed, do will and bequeath all our L-O-V-E for Clendenin and St. Albans to anyone who can figure out the complicated affair—we can't.

I, Wanda Hensley, will my ability to stay out of detention hall to Ann Thaxton.

I, Bob Grishaber, do will and bequeath my broken heart to anyone who is dumb enough to fall in love. (Ha, Ha.)

I, Jerry Davis, being of sound mind and good memory, do will and bequeath my bruised eyes and lacerated face to anyone who thinks it's funny. Amen.

I, Bob Brinkley, will my Captaincy of the basketball team to anyone who is lucky enough to get it.

I, Janet Frymier, will my red hair and temper to any fool who wants them.

I, Glenn Phillips, do will and bequeath to Donald Mallory, my air conditioned football pants, hoping they will keep him cool in November and December.

I, Bruce Lyttle, being of sound mind, "I think," do hereby will to Freddie Ullum my love for all the pretty Dunbar girls.

I, Myron McCoy, being of sound mind and able body, do hereby will and bequeath my body to Mrs. Dorsey to have mounted for the study of future biology classes.

I, Lawrence Mangus, do hereby will and bequeath my "abilities" to Jim Roberts. May he use them well or "rest in peace."

I, Kenneth R. King, do will and bequeath my fabulous fortune which I received at the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, to the teachers' salary, hoping they will starve more slowly.

I, Cork Huffman, will my automobile, "Nellie," to T. J. Bostic; also, I will my heart, etc., to Joann Dent, if she still wants it.

I, Clarence Spurlock, being of sound mind, do will my ability to get along with all my teachers to my brother, Junior, if he wants it.

I, Joe Beverly, will and bequeath my love for the opposite sex, pool tables and pinball machines to Phil Radford. Watch him, girls, he's handsome.

I, John Robertson, do hereby will all of my women, except Patty Childress, to Alan K. Farley.

I, Jim Roberts, will my music talent to Charles Dixon, knowing how badly he needs it.

I, Don LeClare, will my ability to get along with Miss Meadows to Johnny Rhodes.

I, James R. Cooper, do hereby will and bequeath my vast resources of hydrogen peroxide and two curly blond locks to Mr. R. L. Bryan.

I, Beulah Mullins, will my good times in the office to Juanita Deel.

I, Ketchy G. Stratton, being of sound mind (?), do hereby will and bequeath all my dreams of winning a "Big Buick" convertible to any up and coming Freshman.

I, Betty Johnson, will my ability to tell jokes to Billy Arthur, because he needs it.

We, Betty Cook and Charlotte Turley, will our good times and "giggly moods" that we had in our Senior year to two certain Juniors.

I, Eugene Morrison, do hereby will by "batting eye" to J. C. Henson.

I, William Osborne Fogarty, hereby will nothing to nobody.

I, Charles Songer, will my ability to get detention hall time to anyone who is dumb enough to get stuck with it.

I, Jim Baber, being of sound mind, will to Jimmy McMillian and Eddy Dent my Dunbar girl friend.

I, Jack Wallace, will my studies to a teacher who thinks I will make good in life.

I, Emma Jean Morton, will my bookkeeping text book to anyone smarter than I.

I, Mary Oakes, will my ability in art, and praise to those who venture into the field of art.

I, Ruby Parker, will my best wishes to the President of the Activity Club that follows me. She'll neet it!

I, Helene Shultz, will all my books and school equipment to any child who wishes to have them.

I, Fred Radford, will my ability to get detention time to anyone who likes to look at Miss Beddow.

I, James Mallory, leave my Journalistic ability to write headlines to my brother, Robert Mallory.

I, Jack Wilcoxon, will nothing.

I, L. G. Sisk, Jr., will my dislike for "Stonewall" to the whole school.

I, Claude Dent, will my necking ability to J. C. Henson.

I, William L. Cox, will my way with women to Carney King, Jr., to have and to hold for the rest of his school career.

I, Robert "Cutie" Myers, will to Hopper Dent my greatest ability to tell great big whopper jokes.

I, Orin Graves, do will and bequeath all of my continuous bad luck to the Stonewall Jackson football teams of the future.

I, Milton M. Myers, Jr., will my electronics ability to Gene Walker.

I, June Griffith, will my ability to keep an eye on other girls' boyfriends and in the end the boyfriend keeping his eyes on me. Sorry, girls. I'm just a flirt at heart.

I, Phyllis Bays, do hereby will and bequeath my eternal love for baseball and all its trimmings (including the players) to all the Freshman girls.

I, Luther Jarvis, will my paint brushes and pin-up girls to Kenneth (Romeo) Johnson.

I, Eugene A. Clark, do hereby will all of my bad luck and detention time to Mr. Weber.

I, Maurice Goff, will all of my knowledge to Georgia Donahue.

I, James Carson, of comparatively sound mind and body, bequeath or condemn one of my second-hand girls to a 12B (such as Kenneth King) who cannot snag one of his own.

I, Corrinne Gum, do will and bequeath the dancing lessons I never received to any future majorette of dear old S. C. H. S.

I, Sherman Bryant, will a good twelve-gauge shotgun to Bob Childress. May he shoot himself with it.

I, Mary Ann McAtee, will my Senior spelling list to any unfortunate person who may get it.

I, Melba Solina, will all of my good times to anyone of the Junior girls and hope they enjoy them as much as I did. Especially the Spring Hill girls.

I, Johnny Rhodes, will my locker 81 to anyone who can pile up as much junk in it as I did.

I, Kenneth Perraut, being of sound mind, do hereby will my love for long pipes to Daniel (Danny) Meyers.

I, Rudy Chandler, will all of my willings to Roy Hughes if he is willing to take my willings.

I, Roy Hughes, am willing—if the next person is.

I, Sarah Hankla, do hereby will my "curly" hair to any poor soul that has to roll his or her hair every night.

I, Cordelia Magnuson, do hereby will and bequeath my nickname, "Corny," to anyone who has those particular attributes enabling him or her to use it.

I, Wilma Virginia Skaggs, will all of my good times in my school years to the Junior girls and hope for them to have as many good times as I did, especially during their Senior year.

I, Losie Pierce, do hereby will to any girl who wants it, my desk in mechanical drawing class. Also the twenty nine boys that go with it.

I, Homer Meadows, bequeath my hard times and good times in football to Sammy Byrd.

I, Jean Pike, of sound mind and of hard head, do hereby will and bequeath my seat in detention hall to Wilma Reed. I also will my share of the boys to whom ever wants them on "Sadie Hawkins Day."

I, Shirley Hearn, will my looks and books to Donna Waddell, if she will accept them.

I, Martha Smith, will to no one my natural ability to be short, but do will all my praise to those future students having the "gumption to attain the height of 6' 7".

I, Raymond De Hainaut, will by collection of biology bugs to anyone that tried to hunt them out of season as I did. Also a dissected grasshopper to the cafeteria if the meat shortage returns.

I, Anne Means, will my ability to stay put in one place more than one minute to Eleanor Francis.

I, Joe Higgenbotham, will "Dum Dum" Crawford my books because I am sure he will need them.

I, Jean Denny, being of sound mind and body (no remarks, please) will my ability to roll my eyes (which I don't think I have) to that cute freshman, Elinor Snyder, in hopes that she gets kidded as much about it and has as much fun with it as I have had.

I, Virginia Belle Phillips, being of an unquestionable (crazy) state of mind, do hereby will my ability to go steady with the same boy for a long time to Betty Richards. I hope she has the same luck with Morty.

I, Wanda Giles, do will and bequeath my ability to fall in love with someone who doesn't know I exist to anyone dumb enough to think it's fun.

I, Maynard Sharp, do will and bequeath to the next President of the Student Council, a wonderful Student Body, and also those scared moments before stepping onto the stage at Wednesday Assemblies.

I, Frank "Tink" Dunlap, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath the following to my ol' alma mater: one slightly used blue Plymouth, three fish hooks with sinkers, and last but not least—my everliving HATE.

I, Charles Hanna, will my ability in Radio to Walker Kennedy.

I, Clayton Harper, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath: 1. All my brains to the Freshmen. 2. My notebook to any freshman who needs one, and 3. My locker down where the Band is to any pretty girl. 4. My hall guard duty 3rd period to anyone smart enough to miss a class.

SIXTH: All the remainder of our real, personal, and mixed property we leave to the Junior class during their reign in '49.

SEVENTH: We hereby revoke any or all former wills made by us and appoint Maynard Sharp the executor of this our last will and testament.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We set our signature this thirty-first day of May, in the year of our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Forty-eight.

Fall Festival

Snow Festival

The '47 Prom

Social Events---1947

The Social Activities were a big success in 1947.

First of all, in May, was the Junior-Senior Prom. The topics of all conversation for weeks were "Who are you going to the Pom with?" and "What are you going to wear?" Then came the Big Night, Saturday, May 20. The Recreation Center was decorated with Spring flowers and pastel crepe paper. The lights were dim and Spring filled the air. Did everyone have a good time? Need you even ask such a silly question? Isn't the Prom always a success?

In almost everyone's opinion, the main social event of the fall months was the never-to-be-forgotten "Fall Festival," which was sponsored by the Student Council. Oh! what fun. It was held on the night of October 22, in the High School Gym. Since most of the students had never been to a Barn Dance, it was certainly a novelty. The Gym was almost unrecognizable under its decorations of Props of Farm Life and crepe paper. For the most part, the costumes consisted of blue jeans and plaid shirts. There was a wonderful floor show at intermission, and between the regular dances, there were directed dances, such as the Virginia Reel, Broom Dance, and others.

In December, with the excitement of the Christmas holidays, plans were made for the "Snow Festival," sponsored by the Senior class. What plans, too! A beautiful Snow Queen was to reign over her court of eight lovelies from the Senior class and three Maids of Honor, one from each of the lower classes. December 20 was the well-remembered date and the recreation Center was the place. Success? Definitely! Why, it was the most sensational thing you have ever seen. The decorations consisted of a lavish Christmas Tree, covered with beautiful colored lights, and pine boughs tied with red ribbons. Stars filled with artificial snow hung from the rafters, while the sparkling Queen's Throne glistened below. To add color to the beautiful sight were the lovely formals worn by the young ladies attending the dance. During the intermission, the excitement reached its peak. The great question of "Who will be queen" was soon to be answered. The crowd was hushed as the Master of Ceremonies announced the winner of the coveted title. Miss Barbara Griffith was given the honor. She was beautifully attired in a white gown, and she was presented with American Beauty Roses. The members of the court were: Mary Ann McAtee, Joan Panther, Ruby Parker, Pat Watson, June Griffith, Lorna Underwood, Corrinne Gum, and Jeanette Watts from the Senior class; and Nancy Dillon, Alma Lou Combs, and Elinor Snyder from the Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman classes respectively.

History of the Class of 1948

Entering South Charleston High School, in the year of '44-'45, with 250 students, the class of 1948 was the second largest class enrolled in the school. Roy Hughes was elected president of the class during their freshman year. An ambitious group, the class started things rolling by publishing a new school paper called "The Black Eagle." This attempt, sponsored by Miss Casey's home room, was stopped by the "X-Ray", the regular school paper, which found a rule saying the school could not have another newspaper.

The most outstanding event in the sophomore year of the class of 1948 was the winning of the state football championship. The sophomore class had one representative, Harold "Whitey" Chandler on the regular team. Wayne Higginbotham and Glenn Phillips were on the second string and others on the squad were Orin Graves, Claude "Hopper" Dent, Jim Pickens, Bob Grishaber and Tom George. The class had a dance at the Armor Park Recreation Center which was one of the highlights of the year. One of the most outstanding students during the sophomore year of this class was Betty Corvin who won first prize in the spelling contest sponsored by the X-Ray. Barbara Haynes was president of the class that year.

Under the leadership of Jack Wilcoxon, president, the class of '48 sponsored the Junior-Senior Prom in their junior year. To raise funds for this event, a Gold-diggers dance was held. The prom was a success and everyone enjoyed it. One of the highlights of this year was the excellent basketball team of the school. Winning the regional tournament by beating Charleston High 44 to 43, the winning point being scored by Sammy French, a junior, the team went to Morgantown for the state finals. There they lost the deciding game to Huntington East High School. Sarah Hankla, another outstanding pupil, won first prize of fifty dollars in the Charleston Gazette sewing contest. Glenna Dent won first prize in the X-Ray spelling contest that year. Frank Dunlap and Joy Wolfe with three students from other classes, went to St. Petersburg, Florida, to represent South Charleston at a meeting of the Southern Association of Student Government. During the summer the class sent Jean Denny and Wanda Giles to Girls' State and Maynard Sharp and Thomas Oakes to Boys' State, both held at Jackson's Mill, West Virginia.

Back to school in the fall of 1947 with the realization that they were finally seniors, the class chose Wayne Higginbotham as president. One of the majorettes from this class, Dolores Thompson, won the title of "Miss Kanawha Majorette" at the first annual majorette festival held in Charleston. Dolores also won third place in acrobatics at this event, and Betty McClure won second place in baton twirling. Dolores Thompson was elected "Miss Black Eagle" and reigned with her attendants, Barbara Hill and Eunice Skaggs, at the South Charleston-Dunbar football game. The seniors, sporting their newly-acquired class rings, presented a Variety Show consisting of various talent Acts and highlighted by a skit called "Faculty High School", which depicted the teachers as school children.

The class of 1948 hoped to start a tradition in having the Snow Festival dance in December. A snow queen, Barbara Griffith, was elected and she with eleven attendants reigned at the dance. The student council published a student directory, the first one in this school, to be sold to students. The time for graduation has come and the class takes a more serious attitude toward the future. Regardless of how glad they may be to get out of school they wonder what the future has in store for them. So, we look to graduation with mingled gladness and regret. We are grown-ups now.

Prophecy

While opening my morning mail, I was indeed surprised to find an invitation to the reunion of the class of '48. I had almost forgotten that we had planned to have our reunion in this year.

Immediately I arranged with the editor of the New York Times to take my vacation now and hopped the first plane for South Charleston, "Chemical City of the World" and home of the famous Skeeterville University.

After arriving I had the afternoon before me with nothing to do so I decided to look the town over and see if the old hangouts could still be found among the skyscrapers of the town.

I made a bee-line for the old site of the Mayflower Grill (as usual) which was now under the management of Dolores Thompson. It was strictly a college hangout with the new name "Campus Corner" (although it was patronized more by the faculty than students of the college).

Lounging in the luxurious booths of the much expanded building, I met some of my former classmates of South Charleston High discussing campus "problems."

Much to my surprise I learned that the group before me was the Board of Directors of the University. I also learned that Skeeterville University had been founded and was managed solely by these persons before me!

On this Board of Directors are Frank "Tink" Dunlap and Jack Wilcoxon, famous politicians; Maynard Sharp, president of the university; Fred Griffith, Eugene Morrison and Fred Radford, big business tycoons; Bob "Cutie" Meyers, owner of the local radio station NROC (spelled backwards—corn); Bill Cox, owner of a string of theaters; Jimmy Cooper, noted radio comedian; and Eugene Stratton, well-known press agent of many celebrities.

Even more alarming was the fact that the faculty of this progressive college was made up almost entirely of my old classmates.

In the sports departments there were Claude "Hopper" Dent and Jerry Davis as head football coaches, with Bob Brinkley and "Whitey" Chandler in charge of the basketball teams, and Rudy Chandler and Sammy French coaching baseball.

Then I found that Milton Meyers was the professor of electronics; Richard Baria, teacher in the school of aviation; Orin Graves and Gaby Lefebvre, professors in the school of engineering; and Professors Joe VanCamp and John Davies, heads of the scientific research department.

Teaching are to the would-be artists of tomorrow were Lorna Underwood and Sarah Hankla.

Glenna Dent and Mary Reba Moore are professors in the English department with Ramsey Richardson as the Journalism instructor (just couldn't get away from newspaper work of some kind, I guess).

Showing the students how to write love letters to their "little friends across the sea" are French professors Cordelia Magnuson and Kenneth King.

Bob Dent is the big man in the College of Forestry and has Richard Rader teaching physics in this division.

Charlotte Turley recently became the Dean of Girls and Elizabeth Cash is her personal secretary. Private stenographer to the college president is Betty Cook.

In the medical college, the famous surgeons Phyllis Bays and Betty Lawson have everything under control (and most of the students under ether).

The noted historians Wanda Giles and Juanita Sewell are also employed at S. U.

Bob Estep runs the industrial arts school and Paul Douglas is the Professor of Mathematics.

O course, in the business college I expected to find Ruth Sims and Jo Ann Dodd instructing.

Head of the School of Dramatics was Beulah Mullins, With Betty McClure and Carolyn Reed teaching the students what to do on a dance floor. Delphia Medley was on hand, too, to run over the scales with the songbirds of the college.

Instructing the gals that want to learn about housework are Barbara Barker and Emma Morton.

Pat Watson is the physical education instructor for girls; and Corrinne Gum just couldn't break away from the high-steppers. She spends her time at S. U. telling the girls to "pick 'em up high and point 'em!"

After this long chat with the board of directors, finding out who's who around the campus, I decided it was time to get ready for the reunion dance tonight.

* * * *

June Griffith's exclusive night club was the scene of the dance and the music was furnished by Don Deardorff's popular orchestra.

I had intended to be sure and see everyone, so I thought it would be easiest to stop at each table.

Strolling up to the first table I found Margaret Price, fashion designer, and Nora Lou Lyon, purchasing agent; both of Bagstone's 7th Ave. There, too, was Imogene Pettit, president of the New Old Look Manufacturing Company (their specialty is Gibson Girl blouses).

At the next table I found society playboy Bob Grishaber, the famous movie stars Charlie Chandler and Bruce Lyttle flirting with Eunice Skaggs, Mary Ann McAtee, Ruby Parker Mace, Barbara Hill, Joan Panther, Barbara Griffith and Anna Hall. Although these pretty girls are married and settled down, they're still the belles of every ball.

Moving on I noticed the vocalists Jean Denny, Norman Casto and Raymond DeHainaut. They became famous by introducing the many tunes of that great song-writing team, John and Tom Oakes. They have made many records for Charles Songer's recording company, sponsor of the 24 hour radio request program on local stations. Disc jockeys for this program are Tommy George and John Robertson.

As I moved on, a flash of navy blue caught by eyes. Turning I saw Admirals Jack Smith and Bill Bates.

Stopping for a chat, I learned that on a recent trip to South America, they had seen the United States Ambassador to Brazil, James Mallory, who informed them that he would not be able to come to the reunion but wished to be remembered to all.

Noticing James Dillon "slightly" bandaged up, I inquired of the cause and learned he had had a little accident testing "Jarvis' Jet Jobs" for Luther Jarvis.

Then my eyes beheld the distinguished countenance of Jean Pike, now head of the S. K. I. P. (School Kids in Protest) Union. She was discussing the unjustness of forcing kids to go to school with the local police chief, Buddy George. About to run Rip Kirby out of business, are his ace detectives, Charlie Cobb, Marlin Cook, Marvin Titus, Clarence Spurlock, Joe Higginbotham, Glen Phillips and Jim Pickens.

Crowding around Dot Burgy, several times National winner of the title "Miss Sweater Girl," were some of the local business men: Clayton Harper, owner of several housing projects; Bob Burgess, owner of a chain of new bowling alleys; Roy Hughes, president of the bank; Homer Meadows, owner of the famous Derby Up's horse racing track; Maurice Goff, who now has several "Sandwich Shops"; and Myron McCoy, president of the helicopter taxi service.

Well, here comes millionairess Betty Corvin, all dressed up like a jewelry store. Hair-do has the unmistakable styling of beautician Deloris Murphy. Escorting her are Charles Le Sueur and Don Le Clare, makers of the new modern "Le-Le" car.

The lights of the night club dimmed and up to the piano stepped Martha Smith, celebrated concert pianist, and Kenneth Perraut, well known for his accordion playing, who played a duet.

Betty Miller and Eugene Clark, owners of the world's largest roller skating rink, have arranged a floor show to add to the entertainment.

Mary Hudson, world's champion lady wrestler, was quietly munching some of Dorothy Chandler's fine chocolates, while Ruby Wood, famous columnist, was feverishly writing down the gossip of the dance.

I was informed by Martha Myers Morgan that she and some of the other married women of '48 had formed a club. The members are: Gwen Meyer, Yvonne White, Elizabeth Austin, Losie Pierce, Betty Clark, Janice Turley, Betty Mooney, Martha Sturgill, Elveeta Reeves, Wilma Skaggs, Helene Shultz, and Sue Edwards.

Local business women are trying to form a union that permits them to primp during office hours. So far there are in this group: Betty Johnson, Louana Derrick, Carolyn Baum, Carolyn Boggs, Sally Jane Young, Joan Davis, Janet Frymier, Margaret Godby, Thelma Hall, Genevieve Lawson, Wanda Hensley, Jeanette Watts, and Phyllis Hartley. Good luck, girls.

Wayne Higginbotham runs an Odd Job Service, I hear, with David Marples, Bob Snyder, Bill Thornton, John Tucker, Bob Swarbrick, T. G. Sisk, James Baber, Jim Carson, Richard Douglas, and Tommy Daniels as his crew of workers.

Lawrence Mangus is running a delivery service and has on his staff: Jim Roberts, Johnny Rhodes, Bob Childress, Charles Hanna, Bob Watts, Sherman Bryant, and Shirley Hearn.

Still hopping from state to state is Anne Means, who has a nice big salary coming from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Getting rich quick describes Melba Solina now. She owns a chain of restaurants and some of her managers are Mary Oakes, Beatrice Ruckman, Evelyn Barnette, and Grace Buck.

At the close of this successful reunion, the gang broke up into groups, some headed for "Campus Corner," others to various restaurants, and a few still remembered Kanawha State Forest as a good place to roast marshmallows late at night.

It was swell seeing everyone again and it sure was nice to know that all were doing well in their respective fields. Since such a good time was had by all, I imagine there will be another reunion in a few years, so I'll be seeing you all then. Good luck!

This year's X-Ray staff regained the state journalism award of First Honors High School Publication, which it has held since 1932 with the exception of two years.

Ten issues were published and distributed, all but one containing six or eight pages, sometimes more.

The annual spelling contest was again promoted by the X-Ray.

The greatest volume of advertising was sold this year of any X-Ray advertising staff to date.

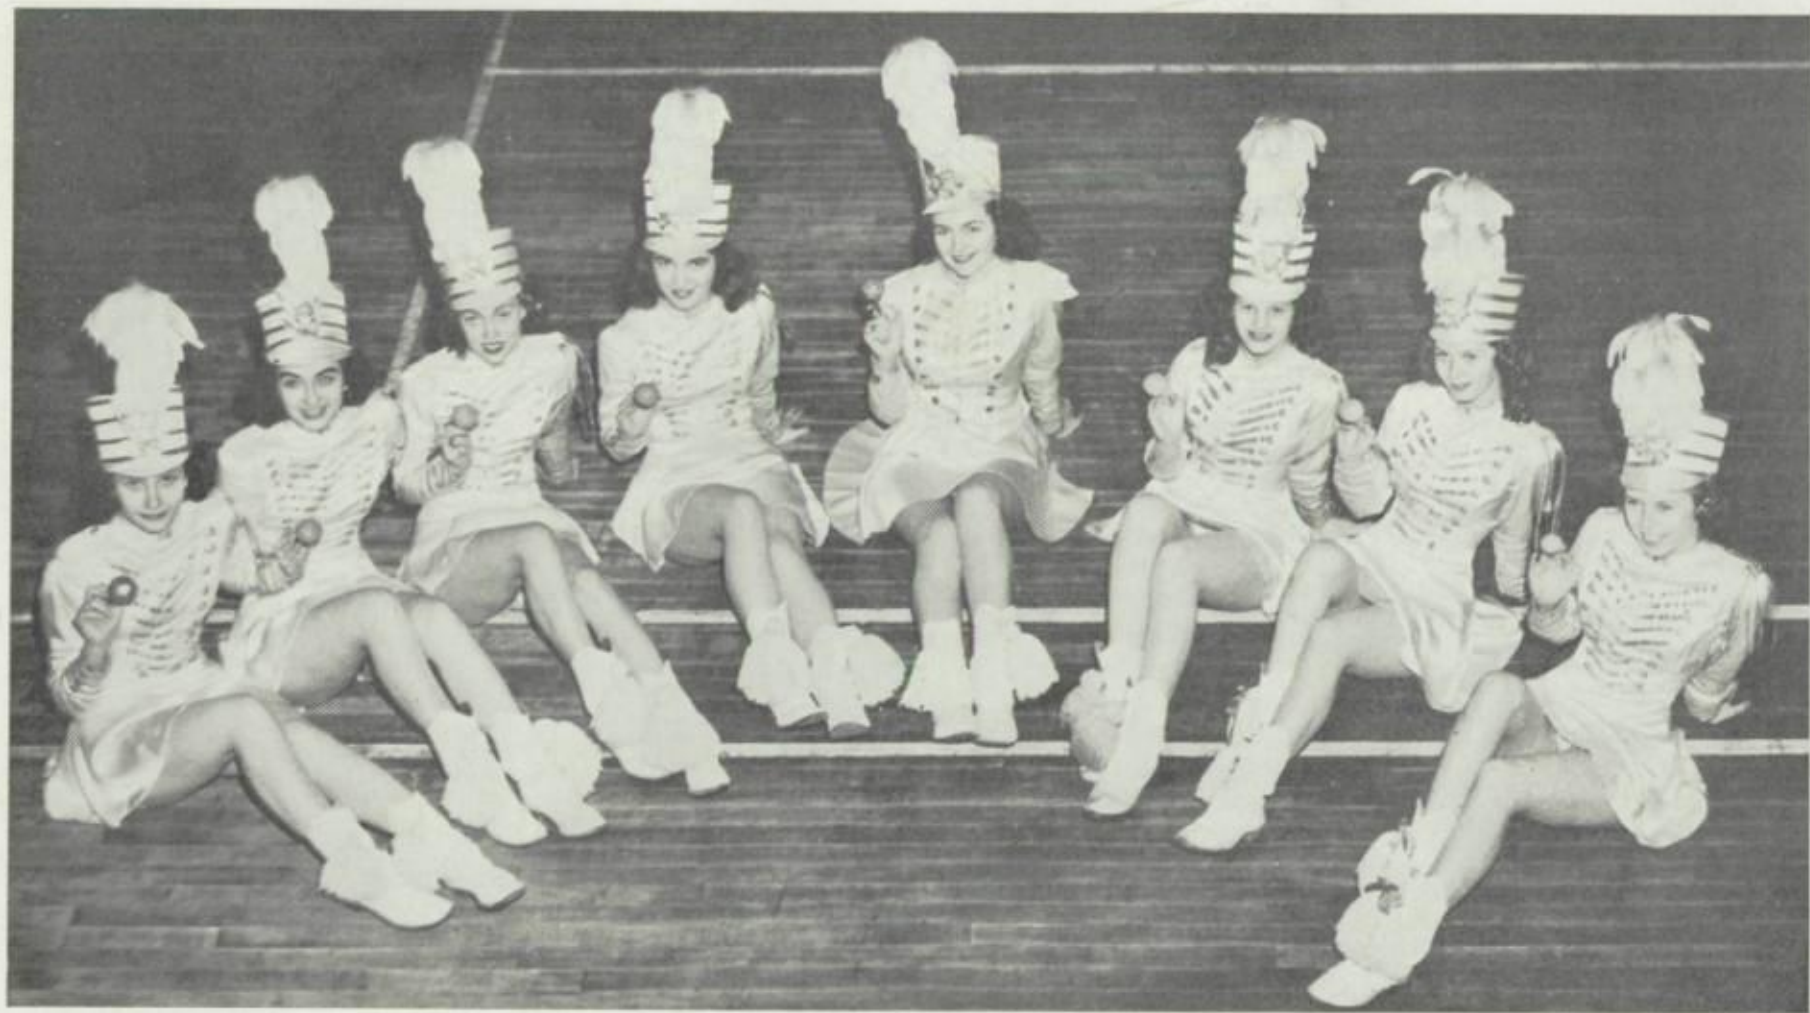

Larger layouts and more effective use of pictures are to be found in the '47-'48 issues than ever before.

The coverage story and makeup of the issue in which the Kanawha County Majorette festival was featured, was judged by the Daily Mail as the best of the various school newspaper editions turned in by county high schools.

Football Review

We are proud to call South Charleston our Alma Mater and even more proud to call the Black Eagles "our boys." In the years ahead we can look back, with satisfaction, upon the excellent record our boys have made for themselves.

Here is a review of the '47 schedule which I'm sure will bring back to mind the many thrills and chills of those days when we sat in the stands, under our colors, yelling our heads off for the best team in the state; the ol' Orange and Black.

South Charleston opened their 1947 season in grand style by defeating Montgomery 19-0.

Then another victory was chalked up for the Orange and Black, that of a 19-7 score over Mount Hope.

Bill Weber's boys managed to take a 7-0 lead over the Huntington East eleven but the Highlanders came back to win 14-13.

Out to revenge a 32-0 score of last year our boys played a hard and CLEAN game, however, the Generals proved too strong for the Eagles and the game ended; Stonewall Jackson 47, South Charleston 0.

Although the underdog in the S. C.-East Bank clash, the Chemists proved themselves by tripping the Pioneers 19-7.

Again the ol' Orange and Black proved to the world that they were made of the right stuff by sending Barboursville into a 13-0 defeat.

Remembering the 39-6 defeat suffered at the hands of Saint Albans last year the Eagles fought hard and led 7-6 at the close of the half. The end of the game came with the strong St. Albans eleven leading with a score 20-7.

Charleston Catholic was next on the long list of victories for South Charleston, dropping 12-0.

Through the brilliant playing of "Whitie" Chandler, who scored all four touchdowns and threw the extra point pass to Henson making the final score 25-0, the Eagles chalked up another win. This time Madison was the victim.

With the Lions Club trophy at stake, the Chemists, under the leadership of "Kissy" Henson, rang up an 18-7 decision over the Dunbar Bulldogs.

The Orange and Black, piloted by Captain Jerry Davis, had a very good season, winning seven while losing only three. Coaches Weber and Ruby should be congratulated, even praised for their excellent job in turning out a winning team such as we had.

Basketball Review

South Charleston High School's team, in any field of sports, especially football and basketball, has long been known as an unpredictable team. In many cases in the history of its sports, South Charleston has emerged victorious where sure defeat was certain by the spectators.

South Charleston bowed to Charleston 36-41, for the first game of the season in a hair raising game. South Charleston came out victors in the next game, with Clendenin, 52-47. Then the mighty "Fighting Irishmen", from Charleston Catholic won the fight with the Eagles, by a margin of ten points, 50-40. The next three games were "easy pickin'" you might say, Dunbar, East Bank and Fayetteville bowing to the conquering Eagles.

Then St. Albans, Stonewall, and Catholic turned the tables, and South Charleston went down in three straight defeats. The Black Eagles came back in the winning column by overthrowing Fayetteville and Clendenin.

Then came the black period in the 1948 basketball season. South Charleston lost five straight games to Beckley, Princeton, Bluefield, East Bank, and Charleston. East Bank crashed through in an overtime game and won by one point margin, 39-40.

Revenge at long last: the Black Eagles swooped down victorious and the "Generals" fell off their horses and bowed low to the conquering Eagles, 65-56.

The St. Albans Red Dragons turned pink when the Eagles won by a six point margin, 59-53. Princeton stopped the Eagles short by 63-59.

The Dunbar Bulldogs didn't growl so fiercely at the Black Eagles in either of the games, especially in the last game when the Black Eagles chased Dunbar home with a defeat of 41-19.

In view of the fact that the S. C. "Thinclads" were only in their second year of existence, and that they were handicapped in every way by the lack of equipment, a track, etc., they set a pretty good record for themselves.

It is true that they scored few points but we must be reminded that they were up against teams that outclassed them, teams that have had the necessary facilities for the development of a good track and field team.

In only one meet were the Eagles classed as they should be—that was the Kanawha Valley Conference Meet. In this meet the Orange and Black showed that when placed among equal odds they could and would shine.

South Charleston took first and second in nearly every event and broke six of the seven records that were broken. From the very first event of the day, the Medly relay (Williams, Adkins, Le Sueur, Quick), in which they broke the previous meet record by seven seconds, the S. C. cinder crew led the field in scoring.

Crawford won the broad jump, the one hundred yard dash, placed second in the 220 yard dash, and anchored the mile relay team (LeSueur, Williams, Amos, and Crawford) which broke last year's meet record by 17 seconds, to be the high point man of the day with 16½ points.

Roy Hughes won the discus, tied for first for the high jump, with Steve Adkins, and placed second in the shot put. Jerry Davis also helped the cause by winning the shot put with a record throw of 39' 9", placing second in the discus throw, and by sparking the shuttle hurdle relay team (Davis, Hughes, Titus, Chandler) to win and set a new meet record.

CLASS '48, GRADUATING FROM JUNIOR HIGH

We have put forth our greatest effort in hopes of making this one of the best Annuals

Reflecting the history of the local industrial area and bringing sharply into focus the contrast between pioneer and modern times, is this old log cabin, birthplace of Leonidas Hann Oakes, former mayor of South Charleston.

Built over a hundred years ago, the cabin stood like a majestic weatherbeaten monument of another era, on the old Kanawha and James river coach road, now known as Kanawha Turnpike.

W. E. Oakes, a flatboat captain, and uncle of L. H. Oakes, was the original owner of the log cabin.

Dr. C. W. Shepherd of Spring Hill lived in the cabin for a time, and his son, T. T. Shepherd, was born there.

The house was one of the two oldest structures and perhaps the most picturesque thing in modern South Charleston.

SOUTH CHARLESTON

Congratulations

- - - But Not Good-Bye!

NINE years before South Charleston could boast of her now famous High School, McClung & Morgan Stores Company opened its doors for business.

SOUTH Charleston was but an infant back in those days. The Indian Mound, chemical plants, McClung & Morgan and a whale of a lot of vacant land were the outstanding sights in "our town" in 1917.

THEN, in 1926, we got South Charleston High School . . . a proud addition for the folks of Chemical City, which by this time had swung into its rapid growth towards being one of the outstanding business and civic communities of the State.

EVERY year since 1926, in fact 12 years, we've shared the bright, anxious faces of Black Eagle graduates, eagerly looking forward to the opportunities in the world before them. The earlier grads were no different than you of the Class of '48.

THEY shared the same school day joys and hard study, they were all confronted on Commencement Day with the same problem of finding a place in the college or business world . . . just as you are today.

YES, they were much the same as you. Many of them, like you, while in school, depended upon McClung & Morgan for their department store needs. And now in later years they keep returning for quality clothing, appliances, furniture and the thousands of other articles you would expect to find in a modern department store.

So we offer our congratulations but not good-byes to the Great Class of '48.

We hope to serve you often as your career unfolds in future years.

It Pays to Work at Murphy's . . .

If you are thinking about entering the retailing field, let me tell you about my experience. Variety store business is fast-moving and interesting. Each counter is a store in itself. Here at Murphy's, one yearns retailing from the bottom up! I started out as an extra salesgirl, working every day after school. When I graduated, I was fortunate to be placed in charge of a counter. I never knew how really interesting this work could be . . . it's just like having a shop of my own. I'm growing here, taking more responsibility as I go. There's still more room for advancement . . . I can work myself into a position of merchandise buyer, section supervisor or bookkeeper in the office. And a few weeks ago one of our girls was selected to train for the job of Personnel Directress in a large new Murphy Store.

All of us at Murphy's have an equal chance to better ourselves . . . and there isn't a store in town to beat Murphy's on employee benefits!

If you're ambitions to make a "go" of retailing, join the "gang" at Murphy's. And from what I can see Murphy's is tops in training!
